

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

We're welcoming you to the first International Congress on Pediatric Airways in Verona.

The pathologies involving the laryngotracheal axis in pediatric age represent an object of growing interest, both due to the constant increase of congenital and acquired pathologies affecting the upper airways in neonatal age, and the need to create, in the centers of reference, specific professional figures able to deal with it.

The scientific program offers experts' lectures, videos and peculiar oral communications to enrich the professional experience of all the participants. A laryngotracheal framework surgery workshop completes the event.

We look forward to meeting all of you at the congress.

With kind regards

Prof.
Daniele Marchioni

Dott.
Sergio Bottero
